Fifty Years Ago He Was Let Out of Brig to Save 14 Drowning Men.

By WILLIAM G. CAYCE.

International News Service. LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 24.-On the left breast of Austin Den nam's American sailor uniform, which he wore fifty years ago hangs a bronze naval Congressional Medal of Honor. On the back of the medal is this inscription:

For extraordinray heroism, to AUSTIN DENHAM, Seaman, U. S. S. Kansas, Near Greytown, Nicaragua, April 12, 1872.

Reticent and blushing like a lad,

Denham, who has white hair and is seventy-three years old, told with reluctance of his heroic act, which won him the coveted medal.
With a group of surveyors aboard, the S. S. Kansas was anchored three miles off Greytown, Nicaragua, miles off Greytown, Nicaragua, prior to the surveyors leaving the hip to chart some dangerous shoals. Hearing a bustle on deck, Denham -and he blushes at this part of his story-was a prisoner in the brig for having refused to be drilled unmercifully by the captain.

Boat Overturns. A whaleboat had been launched with seventeen men in it. A mile and a half from the Kansas the white ocean foam was highest and H. S. Firestone Believed to Be the "going" rough. Denham heard his "brig mate" shout: "The boat's turned over!" Denham's guard left his post, and Denham followed close A rescue cutter from the Kansas rushed to their aid, but overturned when it reached the helpless men. The skipper called for volunteers to fill a second rescue boat. Denham offered his services, but was ordered back to the brig. Soon a wail was heard on deck-the second cutter had met the same fate as the first two.

A "brig guard" stuck his head in the doorway and told him the captain said he would accept Denham's Captain Capitulates. "I'll go." Denham replied, "but the captain will have to ask me That the captain did, and a catamaran-a five foot raft, with rubber pontoons—was lowered.

The breakers hit the catamaran, oo, and threw Denham from it as another breaker rolled toward him. Denham saw a shark! Somehow he managed to recover that Ford, Firestone and Thomas the catamaran and start for the helpless souls.

Eight of the unfortunates were ing last summer which camped for never seen, but that night, when roll was called, fourteen men re-

"Denham brought me in!" When Denham again went aboard the Kansas he reported to the captain that he was ready to return to the brig. The captain asked Denham down to his cabin.

"The captain had a good stock bought or optioned by agents representing Firestone. Ford, Firestone. Ford, Firestone and Edison were hosts to President Harding during their captain had a good stock camp outing near Ridgeway last and brand of rum-and knew how to pour a seafaring man a good-sized drink," Denham said.

HELP WANTED SALESMEN

STOCK SALESMEN—If you have the ability to present a high-grade investment and if you have references as to your character and past accomplishments we can offer you an unusual selling proposition. Our board of directors is made up of leading business men who insist this story must be told truthfully to other business men; the men we are seeking will, therefore, appreciate why we must exercise unusual caution in the selection of representatives. Dividends have been earned and paid; individual subscriptions run as high as $25,000; because of the character and unusual merit of the proposition the average subscription is uncommonly large; position permanent for the right man. Box A-67, Times-Herald.
